

LIOCS

ICSV (Improving Competitive Skills in Vogue)

The national mega and very first event of LIOCS (Leading Institute of Competitive Skills), which opened new doors of learning and social development for all the visually challenged and sighted youth.

Since, LIOCS is the visionary globe; ICSV (Improving Competitive Skills in Vogue) integrated hundreds of young special and sighted individuals annually and planning to raise the number yearly.

All participants would be divided in different group of PEOPLE; every group would be consisting of visually impaired and sighted people. Every group would be assigned one young facilitator, who will assist the participants during the activities of conference. ICSV provides learning of different competitive skills and is giving chance everyone to explore his/her internal vision.

Objectives of this conference are:

- to reduce gap between visually challenged and sighted people,
- to built the confidence of the participants to face obstacles of life,
- to create awareness about the problems of visually challenged people,
- To train people how to deal with visually challenged people.

LIOCS is an NGO in Pakistan, came into existence in 2007. It stands for "Leading Institute of Competitive Skills". For the very first time in Pakistan, the concept of events organizing for visually challenged is adopted by LIOCS.

It is aiming to provide best quality skills to the visually challenged community in order to integrate them with the sighted part of the society.

"If we can not see the world, we must do something that the whole world should see us"

Leading Institute of Competitive Skills

BOARDING VISION OF VISUALLY CHALLENGED & CONVINCING
SOCIETY TO CONSIDER THEM IN EQUITY.

"Dare to See"

For the very first time in Pakistan, the concept of events organizing for visually challenged is adopted by "Leading Institute of Competitive Skills (LIOCS)". Aiming to provide best quality skills, social and religious awareness to the visually challenged community in order to integrate them with the sighted part of the society. LIOCS is broadening vision of visually challenged and convincing society to consider them an equal part of it as our religion defined in the social values.

The concept of LIOCS has been taken by a team led by Mr. Talal Waheed.

Management of LIOCS aims to promote the visually challenged people and there feeling of watching with there own visionary eye sight.

LIOCS has got different projects in which, Our objective is to empower visually impaired and sighted people together, with Self development according to Islam, Confidence building, Convincing skills, Personal recognition, God gifted qualities of visually challenged, Time management, Taking personal responsibility, serving society, understanding visually challenged people, event management with visual impairment, seeing the blind business, applying Islamic Values in Life and the impaired heroes and much more. LIOCS also organized different activities in collaboration with different special education institutions and non governmental organizations as helping hand and had been always encouraged by the special youth. LIOCS believes "an inner is better than an outer eye." LIOCS provides inner eyes to those who are blessed with their outer eyes. Therefore we claim: "LIOCS is a visionary globe where the vision is gifted to the visually impaired and visionary impaired."
